

Building Healthy and Happy Families

With a 38-year history in Austin,

Any Baby Can has become the go-to agency for families who are experiencing any kind of crisis. We understand that parenting is hard in the best of circumstances. But, when there is a moment of crisis or your child is experiencing any kind of developmental or health issue, it can be paralyzing. When a family or pediatric care provider reaches out to us, we help families develop a plan of action and provide support to overcome their challenges.

Our comprehensive services have grown to provide anything a family may need from healthcare to emotional support to basic needs—recognizing that families are complicated, so solutions aren't simple. By providing most of our services in-home we are able to eliminate barriers to access.

Our in-home services include:

- Early childhood therapies for physical, cognitive, and emotional development
- Marriage and family counseling
- Support for families facing a healthcare diagnosis such as childhood cancer, autism, or ADHD
- Parental coaching
- Maternal health support for at-risk mothers

Here's what we accomplished for our families in 2016:

4,350 Central Texas families served

1,767 families referred by local schools, medical providers and other nonprofits

28,506 hours served by Any Baby Can health professionals

300 Registered community volunteers

Our referrals come from 22 area schools, 45 medical facilities and 32 other nonprofits and community organizations such as: Austin ISD, Austin Regional Clinic, Dell Children's Medical Center, WIC — Women, Infants, and Children Program. We partner with organizations around Central Texas to fill in gaps in our current healthcare system and to stabilize families. Our services also prevent long-term costs to the state and our healthcare system. Every $1 invested in our programs saves the state up to $17 over a child's lifetime.

The faces of our success can be seen all around Central Texas. Any Baby Can families are self-sufficient, empowered and have the tools and support network to thrive. They are the healthy and happy families essential to a successful community. Every family has their moment of need. Help us be there by supporting Any Baby Can.

In 2016, 91% of our families reached their goals:

- Therapy and movement development for disabled children
- Cognitive and emotional development benchmarks
- Finding stable and affordable childcare
- Graduation and continuing education for parents
